Children Known to Have Died in Infancy and Childhood prior to 1884

Children up to age 2

There were 132 known Exovede/Métis infant and toddler deaths between the years of 1846 and 1882. 59 were girls and 66 were boys and seven died Unknown (or Anonyme). Seven infant and toddlers of four families sympathetic to the Dominion cause also suffered losses during this time: Four were the children of William Edward Cromarty and Mary Ann Hourie. The Patriot family of Jean Michel and Hélène (née Gosselin) Desmarais also suffered the loss of four children during this time, including twins Alexander and Marie-Ernestine (born August 1877) which died in January 1878 - age 5 mos. The family of Henri and Élise (née Beauchamp) "Fleury" Sayers suffered the loss of twins Thomas and Alice Mary Sayers who were born on 29 May 1881 but died bef. June 1881 - age ? wks.; Mary Alice Sayers, born on 16 January 1880 also died bef. June 1881 - age ? mos. Capt. Edouard and Sophie (née Letendré) Dumont and Jean Michel and Hélène (née Gosselin) Desmarais also suffered the loss of twins (in 1874 and 1878, respectively): Furthermore, the Dumont family previously suffered the loss of an infant daughter in 1871, as well. The families of Capt. William and Julienne (née Bousquet) Boyer, Capt. William Sr. and Marguerite (née McGillis) Fiddler, Charles "Challius" and Hélène (née Letendré) Thomas; Chief Charles "Wahpass" and Ursule (née Laframboise) Trottier, and Antoine dit Matchas and Isabelle (née Beauchemin) Vandal each lost three children during this time period; as did the family of Marie Boucher* widow of Joseph Vallée (died 1881).

Furthermore, the following Patriotic families all lost two infants or toddlers during this period: Charles and Emily "Amelia" (née Wells) Bremner, Bazile Cleophas and Élise (née Lafournaise) Beaugrand dit Champagne, Jean-Baptiste and Marguerite (née Pepin) Delorme dit Bidou, André and Joséphite (née Fagnant) Desjarlais, Capt. Élie and Marie-Françoise (née Ouellette) Dumont, Antoine and Élise (née Jerome dit St-Mathé) Ferguson, (John) James and Margaret "Maggie" (née Bear) Isbister, Alexis and Clemence (née Fleury) Ledoux, Alexandre "Alex" Sr. and Maria (née Irvine) McDougall, Abraham père and Marie (née Page) Montour, Thomas and Sarah (née Thompson) Scott, and Joseph père and Thérèse (née Vallée dit Laplante) Trottier.

1878, experiencing fifteen infant deaths, stands out as a difficult year for most of these people, the widow Marie Boucher losing two of her three children which died during this time at this time; the Desmarais twins passed away in 1878, as well. 1881, too, was a very difficult year, suffering fourteen infant deaths: The family of Henri and Élise Sayers suffered the loss of there children in 1881 - as above. 1882 and 1883 each experienced nine such deaths, 1874 and 1879 had eight deaths each, 1873 seven, and so on...

Two other families are worthy of mention: Firstly, the family of Joseph Tourond (died 1883 - age 56 yrs.) and Joséphite (née Paul) Tourond, called "La Veuve Tourond," whose daughter Hyacinthe died on 2 February 1873 - age 3 yrs. Secondly, the family of Isidore "Wabash" and Judith (née Plante) Parenteau lost their firstborn son Louis in 1872 - age 6 days. Note: Wabash's first wife and daughter were burned in a prairie fire three miles east of Walhalla, Dakota Territory - their bodies were found on the same day.

Older Children - ages 3 to 12

53 deaths are known of "older children - ages 3 to 12" which died from 1855 to 1883. There were 24 girls and 29 were boys. There was not one family sympathetic to the Dominion which lost a child this age during this time, but all were descendant of Patriot families. Most notable is the family of Andrew and Elizabeth (née Anderson) Tate which lost five children aft. 1875. Also suffering more than one death in this time period were the families of Alexandré "La Biché" and Marguerite (née McKay) Arcand, Pascal père and Madeleine (née Richard) Montour, and Capt. (Jean)-Baptiste père and Rosalie (née Smith) Primeau - each suffering two deaths of children. 1873 witnessed eight deaths, 1877 saw six deaths, and 1882 also saw six deaths. Most other years reported between one and three deaths during this time frame. 1883 saw the most deaths in any one month, April, claiming at least four.

Older Children - ages 13 to 18

Only seven deaths are known of "older children - ages 13 to 18" which died between 1862 and 1883 - the oldest only being 16. Five were young men and two were young women. One child was of a family sympathetic to the Dominion, Matilda Ballendine daughter of Pte. Peter and Caroline (née Rowland) Ballenden (Ballendine) - a family which suffered many other losses. Also of interest, Patriots Alexandré Bremner and Victoria Fiddler lost two children in 1882.*

Children Known to Have Died in Infancy and Childhood 1884 to 1886

There were 67 deaths between 1884 and 1886: 37 were female and 30 were male. Five children from three families sympathetic to the Dominion died during this time - one poor family suffering three deaths in a short time. The passing of Joseph Riél son of Louis "David" Riél and Marguerite Monet dit Belhumeur stands out as an important event during this time; as does the untimely martyrdom of Marcile Gratton during the Fall of Batoché.

Children up to age 2

* Note: Two sons served with the 43rd Battalion MB, 179th Cameron Highlanders of Canada - "Geordie" was wounded during initial attack on VIMY RIDGE [from 9-14 April 1917] and died as a result of his wounds.

39 infant children are known to have died between 1884 and 1886: 21 were girls and 18 were boys. There were seventeen infant deaths in 1884, nine of them were female and eight males, including one family which was sympathetic to the Dominion cause, Pte. Peter and Caroline (née Rowland) Ballenden (Ballendine), whose daughter Elizabeth died on 4 December 1884 at age 1 day - the first of three tragic losses in a short time for this family. Also notable are the twin daughters of Alexandré Henri and Susanna (née Isbister) Sayers which died in infancy. In 1885, there were twelve infant deaths, ten of them were girls, including another daughter of Pte. Peter and Caroline (née Rowland) Ballenden (Ballendine). Furthermore, the family of Pierre and Maria (née Fiddler) Belgarde lost an infant and the family of Isidore and Mathilda (née Allary dit Henry) Villeneuve lost a toddler during the conflict month of May 1885. The most important of these losses, though, was the passing of Joseph Riél *son of Louis "David" and Marguerite (née Monet dit Belhumeur) Riél*, him born prematurely on 21 or 24 October 1885, and dieing in infancy. Also, in 1886 there were ten deaths of infants, including two daughters of Dominion families.

Older Children - ages 3 to 12

Seventeen older children are known to have died between 1884 and 1886: eleven were girls or maidens and six were boys or young men. The year 1884 only saw two deaths, both of them girls; but 1885 saw six deaths, five of them girls, including Marcile Gratton - the poor girl was killed by the Canadians Gatling gun along with Wah-pah-ha-ska 's young son.^{*} Two of the girls which died in April and May of 1885 - the conflict mos. - were the children of Patriots Joseph and Joséphite (née McKay) Arcand. Nine children, though, are furthermore known to have died in 1886, four girls and five boys. The Patriot family of Capt. Michel and Marie-Marguerite (née Landry) Trottier lost two sons in 1886. It is further notable that two of the boys which died died at the Qu'Appelle Industrial School, Qu'Appelle, or Crooked Lake, NWT (SK).

Older Children - ages 13 to 18

Eleven infant children are known to have died between 1884 and 1886: five were young women and six were young men. 1884 saw four deaths, all of them young men; 1885 saw five deaths, two young women and three young men - one family were sympathetic to the Dominion, Pte. Peter and Caroline (née Rowland) Ballenden (Ballendine) endeavouring to persevere yet another tragic loss to their family in scarcely more than year; and, 1886 saw six deaths, three young women and three young men.

Those Children Known to Have Died after 1886

In the years after 1886, there were 220 known deaths of Patriots and Dominion Sympathizers, both; 127 girls, maidens, and women, and 110 boys, young men, and men. Fifteen families were known Dominion Sympathizers.

^{*} Wah-pah-ha-ska 's young son was not included in this study him being an aboriginal indigenous to the Dakota Sioux Nation.

Children up to age 2

In the years after 1886, there were 51 deaths of "Children up to age 2" which occurred between the years 1887 and 1909. There were 16 girls and 35 boys - twice as many! Most years only saw one-or-two deaths, but a few saw three deaths; 1887 saw seven infants die, and the years 1894 and 1897 each saw five infants die. Three deaths were attributed to Dominion families. Of note are the twins Davies and Pierre Bellgarde children of Patriots Pierre and Maria (nèe Fiddler) Belgarde which passed away on 9 April 1890 at the age of 11 mos.

Older Children - ages 3 to 12

In the years after 1886, there were 51 deaths of "older children - ages 3 to 12" which occurred between the years 1887 and 1908. There were 29 girls which died and 22 boys, again including three deaths attributed to Dominion families. 1887 and 1892 were difficult years having nine and seven deaths respectively; otherwise, most years suffered only 1 to 5 deaths. (1888, 1889, and 1890, were also difficult years having up to five deaths.) Of note are the twins Étienne and Eugene LaFramboise children of Exovedes Capt. Augustin and Louise (nèe Ledoux) Laframboise which passed away on 15 April 1889 at the age of five years.

Older Children - ages 13 to 18

In the years after 1886, there were 27 deaths of "older children - ages 13 to 18" which occurred between the years 1886 and ~1906. There were almost three times as many females which died; twenty girls and young women which died, and seven boys and young men, including Marie-Angélique Riél daughter of Louis "David" and Marguerite (nèe Monet dit Belhumeur) Riél who died of tuberculoses [or diphtheria] at age 14 yrs. on 6 May 1897, in Winnipeg. Of note, also, are the three daughters of Patriots Ambroise and Angélique (nèe Caron) Dubois which perished in 1901 - seemingly a difficult year. Furthermore, there was one death attributed to a Dominion family - this in 1905.

Adult Children - 19 and older - those which died before 1918

108 persons of the Children of the Exovedes and Dominion Sympathizers are known born before 1918, not including the 23 deaths of heroic Exovedes which occurred during the Resistance. There are 62 females and 46 males listed over the age of 19 which died before 1918 - a year cursed with a flu epidemic. 1901, too, seems to have had and increased number of deaths.

Those which died before 1884

There are thirteen names of "Those which died before 1884"; these are arranged according to date of death. There is one Patriot amongst them, but none are of the families of Dominion sympathizers. There are seven female and six males; the eldest is age 33 yrs., and the youngest are age 19 yrs. The earliest date of death is 1867 and the latest 1882, with at least one deceased per year from 1871 to 1882, with the exception of 1874, 1877, and 1881, which suffered no deaths amongst the Exovede children: The years 1879 and 1882, though, each had two deceased.

Those which died between 1884 and 1886

Both 1884 and 1886 suffered four Exovede deaths each, including one Dominion family suffering loss in 1884; two females and two males died in 1884, and one female and three males in 1886 - one of the men was a Patriot who had fought in the Resistance - eight deaths in total. The youngest was age 19 yrs. and the eldest age 44 yrs., both born in 1884.

The year 1885 witnessed nine deaths, three female and six male, not including those heroes and martyrs which died in the Battles of the 1885 North-West Rebellion: five dieing at Duck Lake on March 26th, four at li Coulée des Tourond's/Fish Creek on April 23rd, and thirteen in relation to the Siege of Batoché from 9 to 12 May 1885 - twelve heroes perishing during the Fall of Batoché on May 12th, and two others following shortly afterwards - but death records for this event are confusing.^{*} Joséphthe "La Veuve Tourond" Paul, the widow of Joseph Tourond, and Pascal père and Madeleine (née Richard) Montour, both honoured the Exovede cause with the loss of three sons each; the Richard's losing their children at Duck Lake in the beginning... and the Tourond family losing their children at the end of the conflict, during the Fall of Batoché and afterwards as a consequence of the tribulation.

Those which died after 1886

There are 69 names of "Those which died after 1886"; these, too, are arranged year-by-year, with no entries for the years 1888 and 1894; 39 names are females and 39 are males and one is Anonyme; eighteen of the names listed are Patriots who resisted the Occupation, one is a Dominion Sympathizer, six others are of their children. The year of 1918 stands out for having at least thirteen people die during a flu epidemic - insomuch as this study is concerned; but with the exception of 1901 which suffered seven deceased most years usually only suffered 1-to-5 deceased: Four children of Lawrence and Helene Eleanor (née Thomas) Garneau are known to have perished due to that 1918 flu.

Others

"Others" is a list of thirty names of the Children of the Resistance of twenty Méacutetis families, alphabetically arranged, which due to corrupt records were not

^{*} It is reported that 51 Métis rebels were killed, injured or captured, and on the Canadian side there were 8 dead and 22 injured. Six months later, the battle claimed one final victim - Louis Riél - who was hung after being convicted for High Treason. The human misery and suffering created by the conflicts along the valley of the South Saskatchewan was staggering; families lost track of their children, many women, left behind when their men went to support Riel and Dumont, were without food, shelter or adequate clothing; they dared not return to their homes as those were being ransacked by soldiers, who, they thought, might imprison them as well as their men folk. Many had fled to the security of the woods and the caves on the riverbanks of the South Saskatchewan that the women of the Métis Nation had created.

compatible with the "other" categories. Marie Dumont, for example, who died at the venerable age 113 yrs., stands out; as do seven children of François-Xavier and Marguerite Angèlique (née Parenteau) Letendré dit Batoché whose birth or death dates are confusing: Several other persons are also listed as dieing age unknown. Of further interest is Catherine Harriet McKay daughter of Dominion Sympathizers Joseph and Flavie Marguerite (née Poitras) McKay which died in infancy. Included are the names of three Patriots. Twelve names are female and eighteen male.
